³ "However many people still serve time for the possession or sale of marijuana, which is becoming legal in more states as I type... One factor that may help end some of these incarcerations would be for Kentucky to make marijuana legal, increased revenue, less work on the police, along with the decrease in travel across the bridge to purchase in Illinois which we know just passed this law." ⁴ "Again discrimination of any kind is unacceptable. The problem with people supporting LGBTQ Kentuckians comes down to a religious matter, a persons own belief towards that group or person. We need to ensure that humans are treated just as that, another human fighting for their basic rights that they are entitled to by law." Source: Kentuckians for the Commonwealth 2020 Survey.
